

Maud

I'm Maud Lyon, the Executive Director of the Cultural Alliance of Southeastern Michigan, and 21st century skills are important for us because we are transitioning our economy. Our future is going to be all about these kinds of skills and helping people to discover them in themselves, and helping the community as a whole to grow strong in them is absolutely essential.